For students entering grades 1-3 in the Fall of 2022, we will have a daily cycle of classes, just like Arts Weeks of the past. Each day, these students will explore a number of different art forms through engaging activities. They will spend the week honing a variety of skills in the visual and performing arts. These will include painting, acting, nature art, theater games, and much more!

For students entering grades 4-9, Arts Week will be a performing arts camp, with a more open format, culminating in a final show on Friday. Led by Reach Director John Lincoln, and other guest artists, students will build the show from the ground up. They will engage in idea creation, script writing, set and costume design, lighting and sound design, rehearsal, and performance as they shape the production they will share at the week's end.
